WET & Wild

Summer is the most sensual time of the year. Skimpy clothes and el calor can get anyone in the mood. Make your sexcapades even hotter—just add agua.

By ANITA ALMA

it's an intimidating idea, but if you let your sense of adventure take over, it will be one of the most erotic experiences of your life. In fact, taking the fiesta into the water is an easy upgrade with huge rewards. "It can be quite fun—because you are acting as a team," says Dr. Sadie Allison, author of The Mystery of the Undercover Clitoris—Orgasmic Fingertip Touching Every Woman Craves. "You have to consider so many elements for safety and pleasure when in water, and that in itself can strengthen any bond. It only takes a little variation just like this to re-spark the flames and experience an entirely new way to make love." Take a look at our titillating guide to getting it on in these aqua-centric places.

The number of silicone-based lubricants we found to make your sexy water sesh good to the last drop!

Playful in the Pool

To make the moment movie-worthy, follow these two rules: First, save this skinny-dipping adventure for nighttime to ensure privacy. Second, get creative with foreplay. Try the sexy game of Marco Polo, where he closes his eyes and tries to find you without the use of vision. What happens once you are caught is up to you.

Perfect Position Hold onto the edge of the pool with both hands. When he comes from behind, wrap your legs around him.

Proceed With Caution Chlorine

may kill germs, but it can also affect your pH balance, and do a number on your lady parts. "If you are particularly sensitive to bacterial infections and other irritations, play it safe and hold off on penetrative play in the pool," warns Dr. Allison. "Enjoy lots of outer play, touching, and caressing instead."

Steamy & Stimulating

This is one shower that has nothing to do with getting clean. Start by lathering each other up, and let your hands slide down to manually stimulate each other. Aim the stream of hot water at his back for an extra spine-tingling effect (and to avoid getting water up your nose).

Perfect Position It's a good ol' standing position with a few slight alterations. Place your palms against the wall with your butt slightly poking out (think of a boomerang shape). Have him stand behind you with bent knees. You can push against the wall to thrust backward. Bonus: It's the perfect position for hitting the G-spot.

Proceed With Caution Be careful of the tub's slick surface, especially as your movements become more passionate and vigorous.

Hot Tub Titillation

Those sizzling hot water jets are enough to get anyone revved up. As the heat relaxes your muscles, up the enjoyment by giving each other neck, shoulder, or foot massages.

Perfect Position With your back facing the wall, lean back into the water, holding the edges with your hands, and keeping your head above water. He should stand between your legs, helping to support you and keep your body in place. Then...let the lovemaking begin! Just be careful—if he gets carried away, your hands could slip off, and your head will go under water!

Proceed With Caution With Jacuzzi-sex, think safety first. Temps get really hot—even before the bumping and grinding. Drink plenty of water beforehand, and avoid heat exhaustion by making it a toe-curling, 10-minute quickie.

LET THE GAMES BEGIN

Even if you're ready to slip and slide, remember that you can still add your own twist to the experience as well as stay safe.

TEMPTING TOYS

It's always fun to add some sexy accessories. A great option for couples is the Tongue Lover, a waterproof, wireless, vibrating penis ring. "Not only does it provide pleasure for both of you, it doesn't require any hand-holding, so you can be inconspicuous," says Dr. Allison. "Also, it's a very orgasmic toy for her, so if you want a better chance of climaxing at the same time during lovemaking this is your best bet." Interested in good, old-fashioned penetration with no vibration? Get a silicone dildo with a rippled shaft for extra stimulation.

PROTECTIVE GEAR

Guess what? Condoms work in water too! "However, extra silicone-based lubricant can be very helpful to make sure that you can comfortably continue lovemaking," advises Dr. Allison. "Keep in mind your natural lubricant won't last long when in water, so lubrication is usually a good idea." Regularly check that the condom is in place because it can slip off easier while in water.
